Coast Teens, Mayor Review Center Plans

By DON GRIERSON

Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust and members of the city's newly formed Youth Council have met three times during the past few days to go over plans for a new Teen Recreation Center.

Another meeting between the mayor and 15 youths appointed to the new teen-age council on a temporary basis was scheduled for Tuesday.

They will discuss plans for renovating the abandoned Wander Inn Tavern, and also consider the feasibility of constructing a permanent teen center on a city-owned site at Rockaway Beach.

The Wander Inn property was offered to the city's teen-age population as a temporary recreational center last week by the owner, Curt Heath of Tiburon.

However, Heath plans to demolish the present building and construct a new motel on the site within a year or two, according to city officials, and the Wander Inn project is considered an interim measure toward meeting the teen-age recreational needs.

Members of the Youth Council are interested in the city's abandoned sewer treatment plant location at Rockaway Beach, the site of an earlier attempt to establish a gathering place for teen-agers.

The Millords Automobile Club took over the property a few years ago with the intention of establishing a garage, Gust said, but this project ever fully materialized.

"We will have to meet with members of this group before making any new committments on the property," the mayor said.

A concrete slab equipped for plumbing is already in existence at the site, and the city has no plans to use the location for its original purpose.

A new pumping station has been installed adjacent to the site, eliminating the need for the treatment plant.

This week's discussions on the teen recreation situation came as the result of a pledge by the mayor and other city officials to cooperate to the fullest with the city's youths.

Councilmen promised to work toward establishing a teen center, boys' club and YMCA at a meeting with the youths last Thursday.

Many of the 400 youths who took part in mass demonstrations at Linda Mar Shopping Center last week cited a lack of anything to do as the primary cause of unrest among teenagers in the city.

Though Pacifica has a full summer recreation program (including night swimming at the Terra Nova pool), two movies, a bowling alley and a pool hall, the youths complained that they had "nowhere to gather" except in the shopping center.

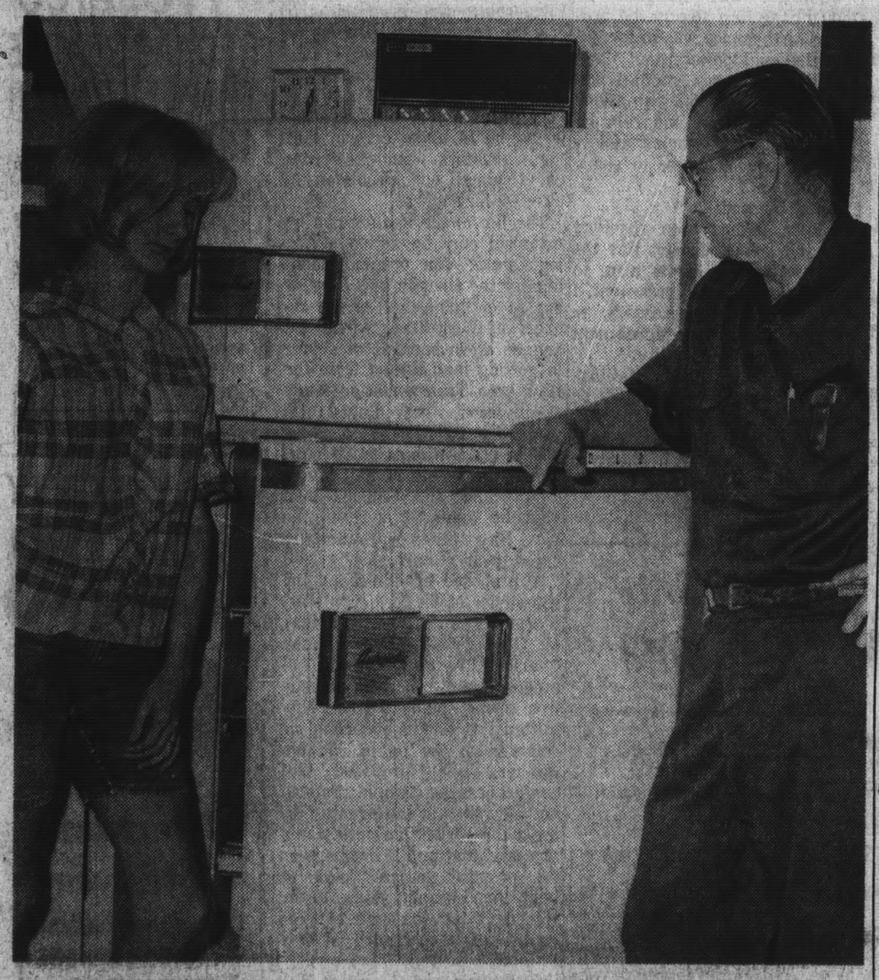

An "anti-loitering" ordinance in the city virtually bans teenagers from the shopping center.

Midway Village Residents Support Maintenance Man

Scores of residents in Daly City's Midway Village Naval housing project have signed petitions supporting maintenance man Flyod Atha, said to be operating an illegal refrigerator rental business there.

The claim, made by Menlo Park attorney Boris J. Baranowski, stems from Atha's admitted rental of some 23 used refrigerators to U.S. Navy personnel living in the county-managed housing project near San Francisco.

Baranowski is representing Robert A. Manning, recently dismissed Rental Assistance Program Director for HUD (Housing and Urban Development), who is seeking a public hearing into the reasons behind his ouster.

The attack against Atha was labeled by one Midway Village resident as "completely uncalled for" and "disgraceful."

Mrs. Lowell Hawkins, a four-year resident of the village, said the units rented exclusively to servicemen from nearby military facilities are equipped with everything except refrigerators.

"I don't know what we would have done without the help of Mr. Atha. He went out and bought a refrigerator and turned around and rented it to us for only five dollars a month. He's a Godsend," Mrs. Hawkins, mother of two small children, said.

According to attorney Baranowski, the maintenance and delivery of the refrigerators was accomplished by Atha during normal duty hours using a county vehicle. He also is accused of enlisting the aid of another maintenance section employee, William Cusper Turnbull, in the deliveries, paying him $1 per trip.

Mrs. Edna Atha told The Post Monday, "My husband hasn't done anything wrong."

She said her husband "happened into the refrigerator business" about two years ago when (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

School Firing

Hearing Officer Favors Mechanic

A State hearing officer has recommended the reinstatement of John Rich, South San Francisco Unified School District mechanic fired last May after a dispute with his supervisor over various maintenance procedures.

The recommendations made by Jerome P. Herst, of the San Francisco Office of Administrative Procedures, State Department of General Services, were scheduled to be discussed by the Personnel Commission of the district last night.

Rich was expected to start back to work soon, but at a step below his former position. He was also expected to receive only a portion of his back pay upon reinstatement (one month instead of three).

Rich had threatened to take the matter into the civil courts, if necessary. He has not worked since his dismissal last May, although his wife is a school bus driver — for South San Francisco School district.

The longtime mechanic had worked for the district more than 2½ years before a series of differences of opinions flared up between him and his supervisor, Tom Harrison.

Budget Cut Session Set At Jeff El.

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees will hold a special meeting next week to revise the 1968-69 budget, and trim away $156,000 from operating expenses for the coming year.

In the wake of last week's tax election defeat, trustees are faced with "a number of unpleasant choices" in their attempts to slash the budget.

Cost reduction measures under consideration include the elimination of district transportation for students, elimination of future summer school sessions, and the scrapping of plans for a new junior high school which was to have been opened on St. Francis Boulevard next year.

A requested five per cent pay increase for district teachers this year also appears to be in some jeopardy, though some board members have indicated they will "make every effort" to provide the pay increase.

In any event, the board has "guaranteed" the teachers at least a 2.5 per cent increase, according to Supt. Frank Greenwood.

"We are presently utilizing the full 'override' tax levy allowable under state law," Asst. Supt. Roger Barthuli said today, "and the only possible adjustment to the budget at this point will be through reduction in expenditures.

Administrators said that they do not yet know where this year's cuts will be made, but the decisoin will be made within the next few days.

Dedication Of Superior Court Today

A special ceremony honoring the opening of the Northern Department of the San Mateo County Superior Court, will be held at 11 a.m. today in the municipal courts building, 1050 Old Mission Road, South San Francisco.

Dignitaries from throughout the county are expected for the ceremonies, which will be followed by a luncheon at the Brentwood Lodge, sponsored by the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the City of South San Francisco and the North County Bar Association.

Judge Frank Blum will preside in the new Superior Court facilities.

No 'Togetherness' on Kind Of Rapid Transit to South

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A director of the Westbay Rapid Transit Authority and Daly City's General Plan consultant, Lawrence Livingston, couldn't seem to get together on what type of rapid transit system the city would likely get during a discussion on the matter Monday.

Livingston, who was retained by the city to draw up a general plan for the area (at a total cost of $105,000) indicated to the council, during a study session at city hall, that while the precise routing of the system was secondary, "the city should continue to insist on a subway system" because of the residences prevalent in the general neighborhood.

The suggestion was seen by some at the meeting as an indication the city fully expected to get a "fixed rail system" although the WBRTA had not completed its over-all plans for any one type of system to date.

Daly City Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, who is also a director of the county transit district, quickly retreated from the serious talks between the planners, council and city staff when asked about the obvious fixed rail routing (along the Southern Pacific right-of-way paralleling "old" Junipero Serra Boulevard between the BARTD station at Knowles down portions of Mission and El Camino Real into South San Francisco).

DeBernardi said WBRT "has not agreed on any single plan as yet" and it was unlikely that that agency would boil the present four transit proposals down until later this year.

Until the question of why both parties were centering their discussion solely on a narrow transit corridor along the present rail lines was asked, Livingston had pointed out with the aid of multi-colored charts and notes that any transit system should be underground through the entire legnth of the city — some three miles from Knowles Avenue.

And along the line — somewhere in the vicinity of the Serramonte Shopping Center — another station should be built.

Asked if WBRT had already ruled out bus rapid transit and agreed on a fixed rail system, DeBernardi replied, "No, our discussion didn't mean to imply that at all."

In the end, both the council and Livingston agreed to amend the present general plan maps to indicate only that some kind of a transit system would extend down the Peninsula, through Daly City, in the general direction of South San Francisco.

EL CAMINO WIDENING

South S.F. Pledges $275,000 to Work

South San Francisco councilmen Monday pledged a $275,000 contribution toward the Division of Highways' El Camino Real widening project, clearing the way for construction of the new improvements during the 1969-70 fiscal year.

District Highway Engineer Alan S. Hart, in a letter to Public Works Director Louis Goss, indicated this week the project will be considered by the Highway Commission for financing during the 1969-70 fiscal year, with construction tentatively scheduled to begin in early 1969.

Construction of the project is "contingent upon the city's share of the financing being available January 1, 1969," Hart's letter indicated.

The city's share of the project, which involves widening El Camino Real from south of the Sneath Lane intersection in San Bruno to a point near the intersection of Orange Avenue in South San Francisco, will include an established $225,000 in construction cost and $50,000 in engineering charges.

In other business Monday, the council approved final acceptance of the Orange Memorial Park tennis courts, and appointed a new harbor superintendent at the city marina.

Merwin Hansen was named to replace Don Fegundes, who resigned from the marina post several weeks ago.

A new one-half ton pickup dump truck was purchased from Arata International at a price of $2,319.

The company's bid was the lowest of three entered.

Jefferson High Might Ask Vote on Tax Ceiling Hike

By WILL E. THOMAS

Jefferson High School District Supt. Edward Morgan disclosed Monday night that the taxpayers might be asked to approve a tax ceiling increase "within the year" if current levels of education and classroom size are to be maintained.

Morgan commented on that potential in direct answer to a question by Dr. Sanford A. Marcus, a Westlake resident, who wanted to know how long it would be before the district requested such an increase.

Morgan noted that all surrounding school districts are capable of raising local tax money in amounts "far exceeding" the Jefferson District and "this district will continue to face serious difficulties, just as the Jefferson Elementary District."

Voters last week rejected a tax rate ceiling boost asked by trustees of the elementary district, and school officials said afterward they must look for areas in which costs might be reduced.

A short time prior to Morgan's disclosures, the trustees of the high school district adopted a general purpose tax rate of $2.4256, with the indication that the over-all tax rate will be around $3.

The general purpose rate is three-quarters of a cent over last year's.

The over-all rate will be determined when the district learns what amounts it must pay on bond sale redemption and in State School Building Program fund repayments.

District Supt. Edward Morgan said he expected the addition of about 16½ cents, bringing the total tax rate to $3.

Budget Bureau Inaction Loses $98,000 for Jeff High

The U.S. Bureau of Budget's refusal to release funds for local school districts under Public Law 874 apparently will mean a loss of some $98,000 to the Jefferson High School District, assistant Supt. Glenn South told trustees Monday night.

Earlier in the day Congressman Paul N. McCloskey, Jr., had scored the bureau for its action, and it was this story that caught South's eyes and prompted him to analyze Jefferson's loss.

Principal Is Concerned Over Thefts

Jefferson High School Principal Ed Cerghino is "concerned" over recent acts of vandalism and theft at the Daly City school.

Cereghino explained that on two separate weekends over $600 in typewriters have been stolen from the school cafeteria, where an experimental "team-teaching" typing class has been offered.

In addition, a $100 microphone and a $125 tape recorder have been taken from the big room.

These thefts, plus the smashing of windows through which entry is gained, are "of concern to us," the principal declared today.

He explained, however, "We are doing everything we can to police the area" and keeping school personnel in sight in hopes of "driving off" potential vandals and burglars.

"We are forever painting over walls and replacing glass," he said.

Aiello Quits S.S.F. City Manager Job

Eugene Aiello, South San Francisco city manager since 1956, last week announced his resignation from the city's top administrative post, effective October 1.

Aiello said he told Mayor Frank Bertucelli and members of the council last week he would "like to be relieved" from the $25,000 per year position. He gave no reason for his resignation in yesterday's announcement except to say he intends to seek a post "outside the city administration field."

He will stay on the job until October in order to complete work on the 1968-69 budget, and to allow city officials ample time to obtain a replacement.

A native of Los Angeles, Aiello came to South San Francisco from the post of city manager in Trinidad, Colo.

He also served as an administrative aid with the City of Los Angeles before joining the South San Francisco staff.

Aiello's 12-year tenure in the North Peninsula city has seen some of the area's most spectacular growth, and South San Francisco has developed rapidly as both a residential and industrial center.

Eugene Aiello

Mayor Bertucelli said today the council has accepted Aiello's resignation "very reluctantly, and after asking him to reconsider."

"He will be very hard to replace," Bertucelli said.

Aiello said his present plans are to "continue to reside in South San Francisco."

GUEST SPEAKER

There will be a guest speaker from Gideons International at the 11 a.m. worship hour, August 11, at Westlake Southern Baptist Church, Daly City. The Gideons distribute Bibles to hotels, motels, etc., throughout the nation, and have a camp in San Francisco.

Refrigerator Rental Clash; Atha Support

a departing serviceman needed money and sold him a beat-up refrigerator.

"After he fixed it up, another serviceman asked if he could rent it because he (the serviceman) just didn't have enough money to go out and buy one," Mrs. Atha explained.

Since that time Atha has added 22 other refrigerators and rented them out to various families for rentals from $5 to $7 monthly. Manning, who presently lives at Midway Village pending the outcome of his dismissal hearing, is one of those renting a refrigerator from Atha. He is one month behind in his payments, according to Mrs. Atha.

Atha said the only time a county truck was used to service a refrigerator was after working hours or during his lunch break. And Turnbull helped to deliver only four units during that period, Atha said.

There are 436 Navy enlisted personnel and their families living in Midway Village where Atha has been maintenance supervisor for the past 23 years. Of those contacted since the charges have been filed, none refused to sign the petition of support, Mrs. Hawkins said.

"Matter of fact, they were eager to show their support of Mr. Atha," she said.

In the signed petition, Atha was called an "out of town uncle" to the families "who makes the big city seem a little more friendly and not quite so far from home."

Navy reserve captain and commodore of a destroyer squadron stationed in the Bay Area, James V. Grealish, said today, "I can see nothing wrong in what he's (Atha) doing for these people — as long as the price is fair.

"What else would these service people do? Many can't afford to go out and purchase a refrigerator, or even rent one after some companies get through tacking on all those extras," Grealish said.—FLP

HE'LL SELL BUSINESS, ATHA SAYS

Floyd Atha, maintenance supervisor at Midway Village Navy Housing project in Daly City, said today he is selling all his rental refrigerators and "getting out of the business."

Atha, target of charges made leveled by former County Housing Authority employee Robert Manning, made the announcement through his wife Edna.

"He has already sold several of the refrigerators for about $10 each to needy Navy families and will continue to sell them until he is completely out of the business," Mrs. Atha said.

Atha was recuperating at home with a broken foot suffered last week when he slipped and fell.

Quorum Is Puzzling For Jeff Trustees

What is a quorum at a meeting?

That's what some Jefferson High School District trustees wanted to know when they discussed a memorandum of agreement from the Negotiating Council favoring an increase in life insurance on school personnel from $4,000 to $10,000 each.

Supt. Edward Morgan recalled he asked the same question at the time the Negotiating Committee met, with only three of nine organizations on the council being represented.

Morgan said he was advised that Negotiating Council rules do not specify what a quorum is.

Which indicated to many that attendance of one member of the council might constitute a quorum. A few mouths dropped open at that point.

However, later in the meetting Monday night of trustees, a member of JUHSDTA said he thought "a simple majority" constituted a quorum, as outlined in the rules.

But, he didn't seem absolutely certain.

Trustees approved the insurance increase.

Rough Draft Requested On Agreement

The County District Attorney's office has been requested to prepare a rough draft of a proposed joint powers agreement between the county and the Jefferson High School District in the program to provide a county and school district building in the Daly City area.

County Manager E. R. Stallings disclosed to District Supt. Ed Morran last week that he had made the request.

Morgan earlier had notified Stallings that the district was prepared to go ahead with the program.

Stallings told Morgan he thought the first step in the program furtherance was to formulate the joint powers pact "and immediately upon mutual approval to make determinations as to specific site and relative responsibility of each agency, both as to cost and as to space requirements . . ."

He also noted:

"Since it has been resolved that the school district has the basic authority, on its own, to enter into such an agreement, I don't believe it necessary to have a third-party agreement with the city of Daly City."

On the other hand, Stallings said, "I think they should be considered a partner in the programming and we would expect to work closely with them to integrate the joint facility with that of Daly City."

Transit Authority Studies Deadline

Directors of the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority are giving some thought to the possibility that an additional extension of their tenure may be needed.

Doubt was expressed at a meeting of the directors Monday that the agency will be able to meet its deadline, scheduled for next June, for submission of a master transit plan for San Mateo County to the electorate.

There was unanimous agreement that every effort will be made to meet the deadline. As a safeguard, however, the directors voted to arrange a meeting with the county's state legislators to brief them on the authority's problems.

County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, who proposed the briefing session, said the possibility of an extension will not be discussed with the legislators at the present time. He explained the purpose of the meeting would be to make certain that the legislators would be "educated about our problems in case we hit a snag."

The life of the agency can be extended only by action of the legislature. The original deadline for the election was December 31 of this year. At the request of West Bay, which got bogged down because of delays in getting information from the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission, the Legislature granted a six months extension last year. As things stand now, unless the voters of San Mateo County have approved a transit plan by June 30 of 1969, the West Bay agency will automatically go out of existence.

A proposed schedule for the remainder of the authority's activities was outlined Monday by General Manager John Charles Lilly. He said a draft of a consultants' report on alternative transit plans will be submitted this month and could be released to the public in September. Lilly proposed that conferences be held in most, if not all, cities in the county during a three-week period in January, and that public hearings on the proposed master plan be held in February and March. He suggested that the election could then be scheduled for May or June.

Fitzgerald and Chairman William R. Lawson expressed doubt that enough time had been allotted for the community conferences. It was at that point that member Dan Minto suggested that the deadline might have to be moved back.

cials are far more concerned over financial difficulties they expect to encounter next year.

"At this point, we see no possibility of continuing the same program we are offering this year during the next two years," Barthuli said.

Heavier class loads and fewer special programs are expected until additional revenues can be obtained, district officials said.

The tax measure, which would have provided an additional $500,000 per year in district revenue, was defeated last week by a vote of 3,613 to 2,282.

hearings, Rich charged Harrison with "retaliatory action" in firing him because of their differences on several points of maintenance for school buses.

On several occasions Rich used one type of spark plug after Harrison had insisted another type be installed in the vehicles.

Harrison told the hearing officer the plugs used by Rich were not those recommended in maintenance charts and eventually caused more serious damage to the vehicle's engine (valves).

Rich also decided against using 20 weight motor oil for "breaking in" a new engine and, instead, used 30 weights according to testimony given to Herst by Harrison.

Skyline College Reported 56 Per Cent Completed

Skyling College in San Bruno, scheduled for opening in the fall of 1969, is already 56 per cent completed.

Engstrum and Nourse, general contractors for this third college in the San Mateo Junior College District, have taken advantage of good weather to move the project well ahead of schedule.

Three main buildings are now under construction. The fine arts and administration building, a three story structure, will soon have electrical work and plumbing completed on all three floors. The physical education building is having walls and roof trusses poured at the present time. Mechanical, electrical and plumbing work is nearly completed on the first level.

The science building, which will be utilized as classrooms for the first building phase, is also being completed with electrical and plumbing work on the first floor.

Current project at Skyline is the construction of College Drive, with bids for the job being let recently to L. C. Smith Company. Sharing costs for the entry road are the City of San Bruno, San Mateo County and the San Mateo Junior College District.

Skyline College will open with an initial enrollment of approximately 2,000 students. General education courses will be offered, with future plans calling for cosmetology and other vocatinal-technical programs.

Philip C. Garlington, Skyline's president, will be serving that capacity on a part-time basis, in conjunction with his College of San Mateo duties as dean of instruction, until February. Then he will turn his attention full time to assemble the new college's faculty and clerical staff.

Unhappiness at Pacifica Meeting

By DON GRIERSON

A crowd of 1,000 Pacifica residents turned out for a meeting between the council and the city's dissident teen-agers last week, but the colossal attempt to "close the generation gap" appeared to be all in vain.

Members of a seven-member panel representing the "hard core" youth element were patently unimpressed with the council's partial compliance with their "ten-point demands."

"We knew they wouldn't really do anything," one panelist commented when the meeting was over.

"It was a whitewash," another said.

The seven youths, some of whom were arrested during the Sunday and Monday rioting at Linda Mar Shopping Center, appeared disappointed because city officials refused to support their "demand" for the ouster of Police Chief Neil Tremaine.

They were also dubious of City Attorney John Sherman's explanation that it is "not within the city's power" to dismiss charges against the 35 persons arrested during the shopping center disturbances, another of the ten demands.

"Only the district attorney and the courts have the power to dismiss the charges," Sherman said.

Members of the council spoke out in support of Chief Tremaine and other members of the police force, and praised them for their "restraint" in handling the two-day demonstration.

Bob Achziger, "appointed" by the city's teen-age faction "to tell about police brutality," accused Chief Tremaine of kicking demonstrators and spraying one youth with chemical Mace "while the victim was handcuffed" during the shopping center disturbance.

Achziger also said that an alleged statement by Tremaine that he "did not have time to explain the law to kids" demonstrates that "he is the wrong man for the job."

Other members of the panel aired their complaints about "the lack of something to do" in the coastside city, harassment by police and Linda Mar merchants, and apathy on the part of the adult population in dealing with their problems.

"We are not agitators, punks or communists," panelist Linda Lynch told the council. "We feel we have a just cause. We can't solve all the problems by ourselves, and we need your help."

"We have been before the council many times to ask for such things as dance permits, and our requests were never answered," another young spokesman said. "We want responsibility, and we want to be heard. We don't want riots."

While balking at the more radical demands of the teen-age population, councilmen agreed to "look into the possibility of reserving the Oddstad Center for teenagers" and converting the Wander Inn Tavern into a teen center.

They also agreed to consider the youths' demand that a "police review board" be established, and to work toward establishing a boys' club and a YMCA in the city.

A number of residents voiced their concern over the lack of recreation in the city at the meeting, and promised assistance in providing new facilities.

Newspaper publisher Bill Drake suggested that the teen-agers might occupy themselves with "good works," such as assisting at the city's convalescent hospital and tutoring foreign-born residents in English.

The Rev. Robert Duryea, St. Peter's Church pastor, called upon the adult population to concern themselves more with the problems of youth, and a Baptist minister appealed for law and order and "support for our police force."

"All in all, it was nothing but an exchange of platitudes," one teen-ager said of the meeting after it was over.

"The "hard core" representatives on the panel were clearly unsatisfied with the city's response to their demands, and said they now intend to organize a boycott against merchants in the Linda Mar Shopping Center.

Interspersed in the crowd at the meeting, held in the Oceana High School gymnasium, were a number of plainclothes policemen, including at least two officers from South San Francisco and three California Highway Patrolmen.

However, the crowd, a record turnout for a Pacifica council meeting, was orderly throughout the meeting.

ATTEMPT to "close the generation gap" appeared in vain at Pacifica last night when a group of dissident teen-agers, Mayor Nick Gust (standing near microphone at right) and other Pacifica City Council members met to discuss a list of ten demands made by the youths following an outbreak of violence early this week. (Post Photos by Donna Starr)

There's Gotta Be More...

THERE'S GOTTA BE more to South City City Manager Gene Aeillo's quitting than meets the eye—perhaps the nose (???). He denies there's another job waiting 'round the corner, but says he'll stay in the "Industrial City" because "that's where my home is."

AS ALWAYS, RUMORS are flying that another key South City personage may step lightly away into the fog on little cat's paws.

MEANWHILE, BACK IN DALY CITY — Officials are branding those "City Employees' Strike Threats" as kinda premature. Actually, what has happened is this: The employes' reps have asked for such and such; the lower city echelons have countered with this and this; the employes' reps have again asked for such and such; the higher echelons have let it be known that certain "such and suchs" are "no, noes" and the employes' reps have finally decided to flex a muscle or two. Next move is up to the upper higher top echelons. Got it? Good!

THOSE KIDS IN PACIFICA are howling (and crying some, too) because those nasty policemen used that awful Mace stuff on them. One little 19-year-old child said he saw a fellow rioter sprayed while he was handcuffed — and by the chief, Neil Tremaine. We realize the police must meet force with force, but inasmuch as the kids don't have this spray, fair is fair and we feel the police should meet the riot kids on equal ground. Bicycle chains, anyone?

OH, THE JOY of hearing all those aged voices blending in (spirited) harmony at Superior Judge Frank Blum's thirty-ninth birthday party the other day at the Baccala Club in Daly City. It's true, it's true, Hizzoner is upwards of 39, but that's all the birthdates he has celebrated in the past . . . oh . . . say . . . few decades. Following the get-together at Toto Spaderella's restaurant, the judge, older but wiser, swore Toto in as a new member of the County Human Relations Commission.

BOTH JUDGE BLUM AND Muni Judge Paul Hupf recently returned from a jaunt aboard developer Henry Doelger's yacht (Westlake III) that took them through Yugoslavia, France, Italy, and other points East. On their return trip they stopped off in the UAR to pick up some trinkets for North County businessman Al Belotz (that's an inside joke, folks that EVEN I DON'T GET).

. . . AND YOURS TRULY is back from three weeks grappling with those mysterious chopsticks in the no-longer-mysterious Orient. The only thing "mysterious" about modern Japan is how I made it back with $2.00 in my wallet.

WESTLAKE SHOPPING CENTER'S Jim Trevor is back in town after his trip to Japan . . . and D.C. Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett motored south for a weekend vacation (to Boulder Creek, folks). I guess the Good Mayor doesn't want to venture too far while the current city budget is under discussion, BUT BOULDER CREEK?? Why not live it up a little and spend the weekend in Alviso at the beach?

LET'S HEAR IT FOR that guy who was out cutting his lawn with a power-mower (in the 400 block of Winchester Avenue, D.C.) at 6 a.m. last Thursday. A neighbor's complaints didn't phase him and police were called. Actually, there isn't a darn thing anyone can do if a nut wants to get up that early and slice grass blades. I know some people who get up even earlier just to slice little golfballs. Fooooore.

SMOKE RINGS — Good Old Joe Alioto (he's the mayor of San Francisco, by the way) just keeps rambling on, according to many North County politicos. His latest venture into the realm of the ridiculous is the (again) proposition to grab off part of our county. In order for San Francisco to annex any part or all of S.M. BOTH COUNTIES MUST VOTE AGREEMENT.

And it's not likely that the folks in the second richest county in California will want to be part of "the city that forgot how" and inherit their tax burdens, outdated thinking, and BARTD.

BILL WILSON, genial service manager of Westlake Shopping Center, is bursting his buttons these days after wife, Judy, presented him with an eight-pound, five-ounce baby boy last Saturday at Alameda Hospital. Reports have Judy and young David in excellent condition and Bill "doing as well as can be expected."

BARBARA BLADEN

(Post Drama Critic)

Duo Team Conceived Triangle

When Barbara Streisand left Broadway to do "Funny Girl" in London. New Yorkers were betting the show wouldn't last six days.

It lasted 18 months with four more in Las Vegas.

So those who said it was a starring vehicle for Streisand, a one-woman show and a lousy book, ate their words when Mimi Hines took over and make the role HERS.

The petite and dynamic little singer-commediene (she looked all of 15 years old during our interview yesterday at the Fairmont Hotel where she and husband Phil Ford open tonight in the Venetian Room) is as much an individual and as potentially big a star as Streisand. It's just taking people a little longer to recognize it.

"We aren't the kind of flamboyant couple that gets written up in the gossip columns. We've been happily married for 15 years and set our own pace. But we like it that way," remarked Ford who smiles at his wife like they were married yesterday.

They're known as a team and encourage agents and producers to think that way, but would do solos if the roles were really right for their respective talents. One gets the impression they'd be mighty particular before they'd work with each other, though.

"ACTUALLY, WE SAW LESS OF EACH OTHER working together in 'Funny Girl' than if we'd not been in the same show. I'd have hair appointments, Phil would be at the tailor or someplace on business and audiences never understood why we giggled at each other when Eddie, the vaudeville hoofer held Fanny in an embrace in the first act. It's because it was often the first time we'd been together all day," the wide-eyed Mimi recounted.

They made their debut to the mass public via Jack Paar and Ed Sullivan television shows but prefer being called Broadway performers. "Funny Girl" was their first Broadway show and they prepared for it by years of summer stock in the demanding "Bells Are Ringing."

U.S. Beef Grades

A HOUSEWIFE'S great delight is to find genuine food bargains for her family. What man is not interested in roasts and sizzling steaks when he reads the attractive full-page "freezer beef" bargains?

Do not be taken in by the low price meat offers. The unethical dealers work in the same manner across the country. They use the "bait and switch" method to get the customers into their stores.

They advertise beef at extremely low prices but when the customer arrives to buy the side of beef, they are either out of the low-priced meat or the bargain carcasses displayed turn out to be extra heavy and fat.

FAST TALKING salesmen try to coerce the customer into buyingmore meat of a higher quality than he actually has room for or needs and at a higher price than he had originally planned to pay.

There are no such grades as U.S. Grade A or U.S. Fancy. The U.S. Department of Agriculture uses only four grades. Any other ratings than these stamped on meat means only what the seller decides they should mean. Private grading is as reliable as the dealer.

The four grades are:

USDA Prime — Beef that is from young, grainfed cattle, with a liberal quantity of fat inerspered with the lean which produces tenderness and flavor.

USDA Choice — Less fat but the same type of a meat as USDA Prime. USDA has little fat but is meat which has an acceptable degree of quality.

USDA Standard meat has a very thin covering of fat. It is favored by the person who prefers lean meat.

USDA Commercial is meat that comes from older animals. It may be highly marbled but generally lacks tenderness due to maturity. ☆ ☆ ☆

The hanging weight of beef is the weight of the meat before it has been trimmed. A side of beef weighing around 300 pounds has about 100 pounds of lost weight in fat, bones, etc.

Drssed weight is when the meat is ready for cooking. The Department of Agriculture says that roughly a purchaser of a steer can expect 25 per cent steak cuts, 25 per cent roast cuts; 25 per cent ground and stew beef and remainder, waste.

SAMUEL CHANDLER

(Daly City Librarian)

The Founder's Dream

IT SEEMS TO ME that the time has come for the thousands of people who live in the northernmost communities of San Mateo County learn of the destiny dreamed by the founders of these cities.

In 1915, an issue of the old Record and Tattler spells out that destiny for Daly City and Colma with these words:

It is safe to say that few municipalities of the western world have such bright prospects for the future and such hopes for civic harmony as this, the city born of an earthquake, the city kept alive by the never-say-die spirit of those sturdy men and women . . . of the first few years of trial and tribulation."

Of Colma the same paper said, "A prettier place could not be found for a growing village — 'altogether we are satisfied with our lot;' it quotes a citizen, and will extend a willing hand to any and all who should choose to settle among us!"

The prospects for these communities are still bright, but they will not be realized unless a new never-say-die spirit is born to fight decay in some areas, provincialism in others, selfish detachment on the part of some citizens, and an "attitude that all is well in Zion" on the part of others.

RIGHT NOW is the time to upgrade the pretty village dream to include rows upon rows of homes and the ubiquitous apartment houses. The prospects will dim if the residents of these units are not made to feel strong ties for the city that contains their homes.

Again, it seems to me that too many citizens of Daly City live with the false assurance that decay is a long way from certain parts of the community, but — according to John Walker, Daly City Planner, "The signs are already there."

"This is a time for community action," Mr. Walker says — "for examining building codes and zoning laws — for extending the bright dream of old times to new residents and for making them understand that if they come from areas that have lower standards than those wanted in Daly City and Colma, they must change their ways and their thinking to meet our standards."

Walker points out that the bright dream of beauty and harmony will fail if householders and businessmen are — content with sub-standard lighting and plumbing and with bootlegged-in apartments and the buildings that not only violate the code but lend to the deterioration.

"PROVINCIALISM is out-dated," Walker believes. "We are part of a larger metropolis and must see our relationship to it and take steps to serve a cross section of its people rather than those of one class or another."

He says, "the advancement of the North County" is tied to the technical demands of the age. Old-fashioned business districts must be modernized. Citizens of areas that begin to decay must take steps to bring those areas to modern specifications.

So, it seems to me, the prospects for the North County communities are still bright, but the pioneer willingness to pass through "trial and tribulation" must be re-activated if the bright homes and civic harmony mentioned in the 1915 paper are to continue to characterize the northernmost communities of San Mateo County.

Heavy Vandalism Loss at School in Bruno

By WILL THOMAS

At least two youngsters, their costly spree concealed behind a screen of thick fog, caused several thousand dollars damage to six classrooms of the Pacific Heights Elementary School in San Bruno — littering the rooms with school supplies, writing profanities on blackboards and spreading an array of paints on walls, desks and carpeted floors.

The vandalism occurred sometime Wednesday night, as the school was shrouded with thick fog. San Bruno police were not aware of the extent of the widespread damage until mid-morning yesterday.

A spokesman for the police department pinned the spree on two youngsters, after finding two sets of small footprints that led investigating patrolman from one room to another.

The prints of a pair of tennis shoes and another set of ripple-soled shoes were found in the dust of powdered paints on the floors.

To get into the school in western San Bruno, the youngsters smashed a classroom window. From that room they gained access to five others.

In each of the classrooms, police said, the "responsibles" rubbed water color paints and tubed paints onto floors — some of which are carpeted — desks and walls. They poured powdered paint onto the floors and spread it on walls as well.

"They generally scattered any loose school supplies they could find," the police spokesman said.

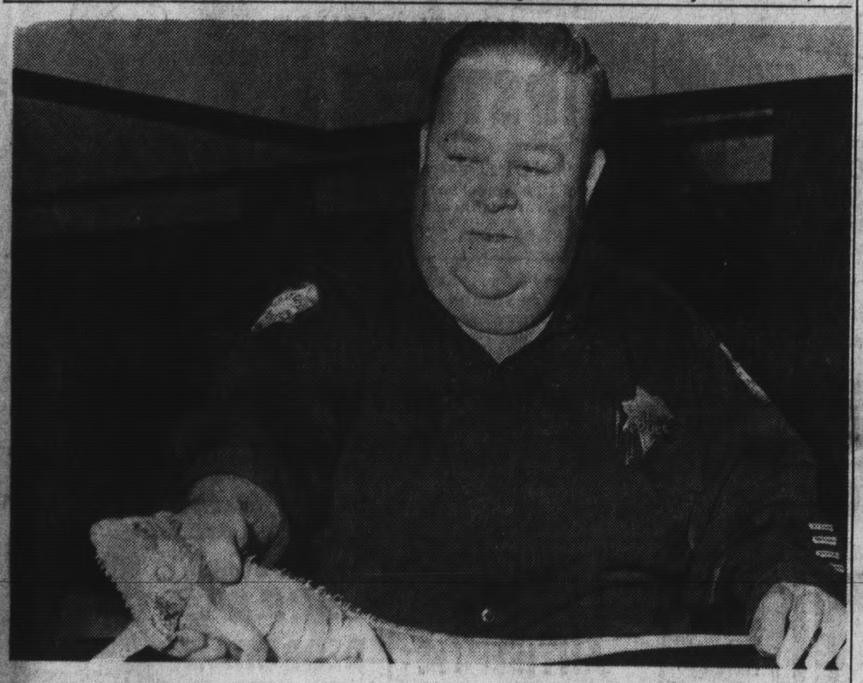

A clock was torn from the wall of one of the classrooms.

Six volleyballs were taken, but three were recovered outside.

Police said a school official placed the damage at "several thousands of dollars," but noted that an exact figure has yet to be determined.

WORK OF VANDALS —Just a portion of the damaged caused by at least two youngsters at the Pacifica Heights Elementary School in San Bruno is shown here. Water colors, tubed and powdered paints were strewn about six classrooms and obscene words scrawled on blackboards.

IGUANA RECOVERED — Daly City police officer Jim Welsh (cautiously) holds a pet iguana recently recovered after being stolen by a 17-year-old youth from the Toyland Nursery School in Daly City. The three-year-old reptile's ferocious appearance belies its gentle nature, according to Mrs. Grace Wilson, head of the school. Welsh, however, wasn't taking any chances and gingerly placed the pet back into its cage shortly after this photo was snapped.

The 'Great Iguana Hunt' Ends in DC—Boy Is Held

Daly City's "Great Iguana Hunt' ' is over. The three-foot-long reptile, which resembles a prehistoric dinosaur, had been the subject of a citywide search since it was reported stolen from the Toyland Nursery School last week.

For the past three years the ferocious-looking (but reportedly gentle) iguana had been the pet of the children attending the nursery school. A riled Mrs. Grace Wilson, head of the school, explained vandals had broken into the school regularly and stolen various articles, but when they took the children's pet iguana "they went too far."

Police got a break on the case only last night when two 13-year-old boys were apprehended while breaking into the school. They told police another 17-year-old youth had successfully broken into the school last week and carted off the five - pound iguana.

Shortly after midnight police visited the 17-year-old suspect's home in Daly City, spotted the caged iguana and arrested the youth.

Lieutenant Tom Culley said the iguana was in fine spirits "and while I don't know if he was actually grinning . . . he looked happy to see us."

Mrs. Williams in reporting the theft had pointed out the iguana had a rather finicky appetite consisting mainly of carrots, celery and lettuce and also liked warmth.

Juvenile Robbery In San Bruno

A 15-year-old San Bruno boy has been cited into juvenile court as the result of an alleged strong arm robbery of a 13-year-old neighbor.

A spokesman for the San Bruno Police Department said the younger boy assertedly was robbed of two $5 bills in the Sunday incident.

The victim was passing the suspect's home, en route to a store on his bike, when the older boy jumped on his own bicycle and overtook the younger youth.

Blocking off the 13-year-old's further progress, the older boy asked the victim if he had any money.

The younger boy replied he had none, but then, it is alleged, the 15-year-old searched the victim and located, and took, two $5 bills.

It was alleged, according to police, that in the past the older boy had made verbal "threats to do bodily harm."

'Junk' Turns Out to Be DC Plaque

Two alert San Francisco antique dealers, Lorin and Ben Stilleman, were credited with "saving" a plaque from Daly City's first city hall after an unidentified man tried to sell it for junk metal last week.

The man brought the heavy brass plate, which dates back to 1914 when the city hall was dedicated, into the Stilleman's store and wanted to know if they would buy it "for the brass," one of the Stillemans explained.

"Luckily they (the Stillemans) understood the value of this plaque and immediately called Daly City tavern owner Lanty Malloy who they knew as a collector of articles from the city's past," Councilman Edward J. Dennis said.

Malloy called Dennis and informed him he would like to give the city the plaque and asked the councilman if the city would be interested in it. Dennis answered in the affirmative and Malloy to obtain the marker and turn it over to the city's arrangements were made by Historical Committee for subsequent display in the main library on Southgate Avenue.

The plaque lists five trustees of that period — B. C. Ross, S. A. Landini, G. L. Biebel, T. P. Moran and E. Freyer. Across the top of the marker is a banner reading "Daly City Municipal Hall."

All five trustees have long since died. Ross, a former city clerk in Daly City died some six years ago.

Arabian Horse Show Planned at Palace

More than 400 horses are expected for the first Arabian horse competitions ever held at the Grand National Horse Show, October 25 through November 3 according to John G. Brucato, president of the Cow Palace Board of Directors.

Five $500 Pacific Slope Championships will highlight the Arabian horse contests.

"To be eligible, a horse must have won a first prize in an 'A' or 'B' show or have placed in the top five of a championship stake at an 'A' show," remarks Brucato.

The five Pacific Slope Championships, scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, November 1-3, are for Arabian Formal Driving, Arabian Park Horse, Arabian Native Costume, Arabian English Pleasure and Arabian Western Pleasure.

In addition, two other $500 events — the Arabian Western Pleasure Open Stake and the Arabian English Pleasure Open Stake — are scheduled for the show. Ten halter classes and eight open classes are also included, as is a complete list of classes in the breeding horse division for stallions, mare and geldings.

Cub Pack 724 Honors Former Webelos Leader

Cub Scout Pack 724 paid tribute to Tom McMahon, Webelos leader, who will be leaving the Daly City area.

Den 4 gave a farewell skit and presented McMahon with a wall plaque, hand-made by the boys.

Den 2 showed their artsmanship in the form of a wastepaper basket with an attractive fishing scene.

From the group a combination weather statuette inscribed to Tom from Pack 724 was presented by the new cubmaster, Ned Hardin.

Uniform inspection was won by Den 1. Awards earned and presented were: Bill George, recruiter badge; Mark Hardin, silver arrow; Tim Murphy, two-year service pin and Webelo colors, and Steven Omoto, bear badge.

Achievement awards, earned by Webelos boys, went to Mark Teasland, citizen pin; David Penney, showman and craftsman pins; David Bashaw, one gold arrow, two silver arrows, and the wolf badge.

The annual family picnic was held at Henry Cowell State Park and one evening a week the Cubs have been holding a batting practice to be continued through August.

Today will be Cub Scout Day at Candlestick Park, where the Cubs will watch the Giants play Philadelphia.

Pack 37 Observes First Anniversary

Pack 37 of Daly City has held several successful functions during the year; such as, an entertaining Christmas show, an annual Cub Scout Blue and Gold Week dinner, and a kite-flying contest.

The pack has begun Thursday evening baseball instructions for the boys which will continue during the summer.

During the year C. Marvin Jensen took over as Cubmaster when Ray Massoni moved away from this area. In addition Mrs. Mary Jensen, Mrs. Audrey Powers, and Mrs. Loretta Hansen became Den Mothers, as the size of the pack doubled from 16 to 37 boys, and gives promise of increasing still further when school reopens in the fall.

A little more than 1½ years ago Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pelzer initiated the founding of a cub scout pack. Boy Scout Assistant District Executive Bob Dyer conducted an organizational meeting at the Pelzer home with George F. Hersom, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Massoni attending.

Further meetings were held at Westmtor High School, and Pack 37 was chartered in May 1967 under the sponsorship of the Abraham Lincoln School P-TA.

Charter members were: Cubmaster, Ray Massoni; Institutional Representative, George F. Hersom; Chairman of Pack Committee, George D. Powers.

Members of the Committee: James H. Heryford, Arnold H. Mentz, Carl D. Vallelunga, Stephen J. Pelzer, Albert G. Burns, and Jack Barrett;

Den Mothers: Mrs. Cathy Pelzer, Mrs. Jackie Cologna, Mrs. Estelle Massoni, Mrs. Diane Beck, and Mrs. Helen Williams. Cub Scouts: Robert Pelzer, Scott Massoni, Jimmy Heryford, Mark Williams, Donald Powers, David Nolen, Carl Vallelunga, Carey Beck, Philip Johnston, Mitchell Fletcher, Paul Cologna, Michael Musich, Michael Burns, David Barrett, Russell Mentz, and Frederic Hersom.

Clifford Peterson, Principal of Abraham Lincoln, was initiated to Pack 37's First Birthday and he talked briefly.

At this meeting David Hansen was awarded his Wolf badge and a gold arrow, and one year membership pins were given to Mark Williams, Don Powers, Mike Burns, Russ Mentz, and Fred Hersom.

Janice Shainin, sister of the bridegroom, was the honor attendant, and bridesmaids were Anne Campbell, Claudia Barron, and Cindy Carroll. They were dressed alike in floor length aqua crepe.

William Coccary was best man for William, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mitchell of Millbrae. Guests were seated by Robert Campbell, Randy Shainin, and William Bailey.

'Eager for Leadership'

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

TODAY'S YOUTH is eager for adult leadership which will guide the country through a period of reform and humanization, according to Barbara Lee, another of Jefferson High School's outstanding 1968 graduates.

"Adults need to reform themselves. We need adult leadership of a kind that young people will indeed respond to. But most of all we need the commitment of everyone to open mindedness and to understanding of the other generation," Barbara said.

"The young adults of today are highly independent. No adult can or will tell them how to think or what to think. The young person today is determined to live according to his convictions.

"Generally the young people want a more humanistic and democratic society. They oppose the impersonal organization of life, the tendency to sacrifice moral and intellectual values to materialism. There is a greater desire for closeness with other people. The youth movement is a rebellion against the institutional ills in our society.

"THE HIGH SCHOOL graduate goes out into the world trying, in his own way, to improve the world. He may be a teacher who will work out ways to help underprivileged children, a business man helping to upgrade unskilled laborers or a politician trying to improve the welfare of the people. These individual efforts will add up to great accomplishments for the whole society," Barbara explained.

Barbara is one of the new generation who hopes to become a teacher. She will enroll in San Francisco State College in the fall to major in either math or history.

Perhaps one of the reasons she has selected a teaching career is her admiration for Donnal Behin, her mathematics instructor at Jefferson.

"He has a great mind and he presents the material in an interesting manner. He understands the students and their problems. He is sensitive to what the students are thinking about and he can really talk with them," Barbara said.

"I hope to become a teacher, too. I have worked with young people and have done much tutoring and I enjoy this type of experience."

Barbara's volunteer efforts have included tutoring elementary students at St. Micheal School, and being a volunteer teacher aide at the Colma Intermediate school where she worked with Ernie Kaeselau, a member of the faculty. She also did some tutoring at Jefferson.

BARBARA, who is working full time this summer, was a very active student in high school. She took part in the Model United Nations, the Model Senate, the Spanish Club, the Rally Club, the Girls Athletic Association, and she served as vice president of the C.S.F. and later as president of that group in which she holds a life membership. Away from school she participated in the Grace Presbyterian Youth Group.

Upon her graduation she was awarded a California State Scholarship, a Bank of America Achievement Award in Science and Mathematics, the Systematic Saving and Loan Outstanding Student Award, she was a Governor's Scholar, she won the Luso-American Foundation Scholarship and the American Legion Auxiliary scholarship.

THE DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee, Barbara moved to this area 10 years ago with her parents and brothers Dan and Richard and sisters Lorraine, Vivian and Janice. She attended Spring Valley and Sarah B. Cooper Schools in San Francisco and Crocker, George Washington, and Colma Intermediate in Daly City.

Barbara, whose special interests include reading, sports and listening to good music, expects to miss the students and faculty at Jefferson during the weeks which lie ahead.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

And the Bells Rang and...

Good morning, good cooks.

Ah, me, the bells are ringing at The Post this week. And not because the office staff was typing so rapidly — but rather because last week's column had some mysterious mistakes in it and you, good cooks, got on the phones. Believe me, it's as mysterious to me as it is to you . . . what happens to the list of ingredients?

The first and most obvious correction is in the topping for the date cake. No chocolate.

TOPPING FOR DATE CAKE

½ cup chocolate bits
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup chopped nuts

Combine the one-half cup each chocolate bits and nuts with the sugar and sprinkle over top of unbaked cake.

In the glazed meat loaf the correct amount of bread crumbs is 1¼ cups.

NONIE'S FRIDAY LASAGNE

1 6-oz. pkg. (3½ cups) wide noodles
1½-oz. envelope spaghetti sauce mix
1 6-oz. can (two-thirds cup) tomato paste
1 beaten egg
1½ cups large curd cream style cottage cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1 6-oz. package sliced Mozarella cheese
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Prepare the noodles as directed on the package. Mix the spaghetti sauce as directed on the envelope, using the six-ounce can of tomato paste. Combine the beaten egg with the 1½ cups cottage cheese and the teaspoon salt. Mix well. In a greased 10x6x1½-inch baking dish, alternate layers of half each, noodles, sauce, cottage cheese, Mozzarella cheese and Parmesan cheese. Repeat this process.

Bake in moderate oven, (350-degrees) for 30 minutes. Let stand 15 minutes before serving. Serves 6.

I JUST RECEIVED a news release from Pillsbury announcing that their Bake-Off contest is coming soon. Entries will be accepted starting Sept. 1st. Any of you good cooks who is also inventive should give the contest a try.

Just recently I had a prize-winning recipe from a past contest for dinner and would like to share it with you.

SAVORY SUPPER CASSEROLE

4 ounce can (½ cup) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
1 can (16 ounces) mixed vegetables
1 can (12-ounces) luncheon meat, cut in bite-size pieces

Saute the one-half cup mushrooms in the one-fourth cup butter until tender. Stir in the one-fourth cup flour. Add the two cups milk, the can of mixed vegetables and the can of diced luncheon meat. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Pour into 2½ quart casserole.

CHEESE BACONETTE SWIRLS

6 strips bacon
1½ cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon chili powder
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
1 egg
⅓ cup milk
1½ cups shredded American cheese

Fry the six slices of bacon until crisp; crumble. Sift together the one and one-half cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon chili powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt in a mixing bowl. Cut in the one-third cup shortening until particles are fine. Combine the egg with the one-third cup milk. Add to dry ingredients; stir until dough clings together. Knead on floured surface 12 times. Roll out to 12-inch square. Sprinkle with 1½ cups cheese and bacon. Roll up; cut into 8 pieces. Place on mixture in casserole. Bake in 400-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until golden brown.

WITH BEAUTIFUL apples crowding the market, now is the time to think in terms of apple pies, apple dumplings and such delish dishes as this apple crunch. Hmmm, I sound like Johnny Appleseed, don't I?

APPLE CRUNCH

1 cup sifted flour
¾ cup rolled oats, uncooked
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
7 large apples
½ cup raisins.

Combine the one cup flour, three-fourths cup rolled oats, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup melted butter, one teaspoon cinnamon, and one-half teaspoon nutmeg. Press half the crumbs in a greased 9-inch square pan.

Peel and slice the seven large apples, mix the one-half cup raisins and pour into baking pan. Top with remaining crumbs. Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour. Cut in squares and serve warm plain or with half and half, whipped cream or ice cream.

THERE IS A WELL-KNOWN organization called Weight-Watchers, dedicated to the proposition that most people would rather be thin then fat. And they have some delicious recipes for food that helps you get thin and stay thin. One that I particularly like is this one for baked apples.

WW BAKED APPLES

8 large apples
1 can low calorie soft drink (I used Cherry-Cola)
cinnamon and nutmeg to taste (my addition to the recipe)

Core the apples. Place in a baking dish. Pour the diet cola over. Sprinkle with nutmeg and cinnamon and bake in 350-degree oven until the apples are soft. Store in refrigerator and serve cold. Delicious — and low calorie.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS . . .

By Alice Reichert

PACIFICA, — Linda Mar specifically, isn't really as unlikely a spot for a riot as it may seem. True, few riots take place in all-white, middle-class suburbs.

But as "normal" or "pleasant" Pacifica seems at a glance, a closer look warned of trouble ages ago.

Linda Mar's teens have a problem known as "boredom." Unless you have a car to leave the city, you're stuck in the city.

And unless you have the money to spend on either the bowling alley or one of the few fountain shops in the area, all you have left is the beach.

Unless you can surf, even our beach is "bad news:" sunbathing on a narrow strip of rocks, glass, and beer cans?

But one thing Linda Mar does have is teen-agers, and lots of them. Dependent on one another for amusement or entertainment, they go to Linda Mar Shopping Center for something to do, because everyone goes there, and talking to people provides at least temporary amusement.

Standing at the shopping center and talking is loitering.

Loitering is illegal.

So our city police make them leave.

Which leaves us where we started: Where do we go?

AMONG THE DEMANDS made by the youth and parent representatives of Pacifica is the possibility of a coffee house, or recreation center, open to all teens in the area. As has been demonstrated early this week, teens need something to do.

But who wants to get it for them?

In the past, Linda Mar teens have been apathetic to recreation activities, etc. offered to them.

When we had the Tiki Hut open to us on Friday nights, it remained active until a small minority had it closed to all of us.

But it seems teen have awakened and I hope someone can help us do something about it.

The most important thing now, however, is for the teens to remain active in a Youth Council and keep communication lines open with the City Council.

Mary's Help Guild Plans Style Benefit

Mary's Help Hospital Guild will sponsor a Champagne Preview of the New Season Fashions on Tuesday, September 3, from 7 to 9 p.m., at the new Roos-Atkins Serramonte Store in Daly City.

Paul Speegle will commentate as professional models display the new chic fall apparel.

Mrs. William Corbett, president of the guild, announced that all proceeds from this benefit will be used for the construction of specialized cardiac equipment for the Daly City hospital.

Mrs. Mario Mangini is chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Frank Kelechava.

Admission tickets are available for those interested in attending this benefit by contacting Mrs. Mangini or Mrs. Kelechava.

VEGETABLE TREAT

Add diced raw celery to canned peas and carrots and heat; the celery gives good texture contrast. This combination is also excellent served with a cream sauce. The liquid from the peas and carrots may be substituted for one-third of the milk in the cream sauce.

Pacifica Penny Carnivals Planned for Playgrounds

Clowns, balloons, games and prizes will be a part of the festive atmosphere set at all Pacifica playgrounds August 13, when the Penny Carnivals are in full swing.

Carnivals will include game booths such as ring toss, hit the leader (with a wet sponge!), record smash, fishing pond, and bean bag toss.

All game booths are one cent.

Food booths will include cotton candy, popcorn, cakewalk and Kool-Aid. Food costs may vary from three cents to ten cents.

Playground participants are busily working this week in preparation for next Tuesday's event, which is the culmination of the summer playground program in Pacifica.

Carnivals will be held at the following playground facilities: Westview, Fairmont, Fairmont West Park, Pacific Manor, Pomo Park, Vallemar, Ortega, Sanchez, Linda Mar, and Pedro Valley. Check with the playground for the specific times of the Tuesday evening event.

The Park, Beach, and Recreation Department will start its beauty building classes at Oddstad Center during the week of September 16. Classes are planned for Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Tuesday from 10:30 to 12:30 p.m., and Thursday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

This fall's class is to give a greater opportunity for a more expanded program in the beauty building course. Some of the areas of study in the beauty building program include exercise, dance, and belly dancing, skin care, make-up, hair care, and weight control.

The advanced class will review and broaden the above areas and also work in the areas of wardrobe, nail care, and charm and modeling.

Mrs. Pauline Castillo will teach the courses.

For women with small children not in school, child care will be available during the two day-time classes on Tuesday and Thursday. Cost for the child care program will be $3 for the first child in the family and $1 for each additional child.

Fee for the 12-week session of beauty building is $10. Registration is being taken at the Recreation Department office after September 3. Fee for both the class and child care are collected at the time of registration. Minimum class registration is 20.

Pacifica Teens

Teen Co-Rec, sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach, and Recreation Department, will close for the rest of the summer, because schools are being cleaned for the upcoming school term. Teen Co-Rec will resume at Oceana High School on September 25 and at Terra Nova September 26.

The last J-Teen activity for the summer will be a beach party at Montara Beach, conducted by the Park, Beach, and Recreation Department, details concerning the trip may be obtained through Dave Barry at the Park, Beach, and Recreation Department office.

A recent J-Teen dance at Fairmont School was termed "very grubby," as everyone came dressed in their grubby clothes for the annual grub dance.

Music for the evening was provided by one of the finest groups in the area the "Vertical Hold."

The Grub contest winner was Carolyn Nunes. Taking top honors in the dance contest were Gene Ballard and Colleen Castro. Winning a free trip to Marin, Town and Country Club was Cheryl Dawson.

Rocky and Pauline Castillo, members of the Park, Beach, and Recreation Department staff, will start ballroom dance lessons on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Linda Mar School.

Classes will start during the week of September 16. Registration for the class will be taken at the Recreation Department office starting September 3.

AT OUR CONVENIENT LOCATIONS IN OAKLAND, SAN JOSE, SUNNYVALE, PLEASANT HILL AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

LE PACINI

THIS COLUMN is probably the most difficult one we've ever written, because it involves casting the first stone, and no one knows better than us about our own transgressions as a sports columnist. But sometimes stones must be cast to shake people up a little, and so, after several weeks of putting it off, we're going to cast.

What we're upset about is the manner in which some of our colleagues in the news media have been conducting their sports "reporting" this past year.

There's the well-known veteran — and basically competent, even talented — San Francisco sports writer who writes things in his daily reports of Giant games which lead one to believe that he's out having a beer when the game is in progress.

FOR EXAMPLE: Willie McCovey hit a homerun to tie up a game, 1-1. At the time the homer was important. Late in the game the other team rallied and won, 4-1.

The writer's report the next day said (this is a paraphrase, not a direct quote), "McCovey's homerun was unimportant because the game was already out of reach, 4-0."

In another game, with the Cubs, Willie Smith, recently acquired from the American League, pinch-hit a double, sparking a rally which beat the Giants. Smith, a lefty swinger, had been brought in against a right handed pitcher. It was an important fact.

The next day the writer's story noted that Smith was a right handed batter.

THEN THERE was the day Willie Mays started at first base. Russ Hodges and Lon Simmons knew he had played there before (one full game against the Dodgers and on one or two other emergency cases for an inning or two), and that he had also started other games in left and right field. Most fans we talked to had known these facts.

Not our boy! His game story was built on the basis that Mays had never before started a game in any position other than center field. Ironically, a color story done by another writer for the same newspaper, and which appeared alongside the game story, noted that Mays playing first wasn't exactly a novelty.

There's also the matter of the sports director of a San Francisco television station. The things he says are so patently absurd they must insult the intelligence of sports fans, and have certainly caused us to quit watching him, except when we're depressed and need a few laughs. Maybe he's made worse blunders since, but here is a sampling of his older ones:

Early in the season, when Washington shortstop Ron Hansen won a game with a home run, our man said, "and a man not known for his long ball hitting, Ron Hansen, broke up a game this afternoon with a home run . . ."

Hansen, as any casual baseball fan knows, is one of the better home run hitting shortstops in recent baseball history. In two different seasons, despite many injuries, he's hit 20 or more of the big ones.

THERE WAS THE TIME the same TV expert, in analyzing the National League pennant race, said, "The Mets are now contenders. They've always had great hitting, now they have the pitching to go with it."

True, the Mets could be contenders in a year or two. True, they do, now, have the pitching. But, and we can say this without consulting a record book, they have NEVER been better than next to last in virtually any major hitting department.

Finally (we won't even mention the times he's given erroneous scores), and this was the one which caused us to turn the set off, he gave a fast-paced, "introspective" report on the current hitless situation in the majors.

He noted that the AL had only one .300 hitter, and that the NL, was having a hard time putting a top ten of .300 hitters together, and then he sternly pronounced that even to accomplish that feat, the NL had had to put together its meager group of .300 hitters at the expense of the home run.

"THE TOP TEN hitters in the National League this season averaged only six homeruns last season," he said in a candid burst of knowledge.

To begin with the more minor point, the home run statistics of last season were distorted, due to the fact that a couple of the top ten at the time of the broadcast hit no homers or a very few last year because they either weren't in the league or had played hardly at all. But the whole theory, really, was insane, because percentage hitters are seldom long ball hitters in any season!

How about the San Jose sportscaster who showed pictures of the recent Hall of Fame inductees, saying, "And here is a picture of today's Hall of Fame inductees." But he never told who they were, because he obviously didn't know. And we're not going to tell him.

There's the San Francisco writer who sometimes covers the Athletics at home, and, in his "objective" reports of the games, writes cute and clever little things like, "The A's had a big rally — scored one run . . . Joe Blow hit a home run — big deal . . .," etc.

Of course, individual and team statistics of both the Giants and Athletics, but especially the Giants, have been wracked with inaccuracies for half the season in both San Francisco dailies and in the Oakland Tribune. Why? Because the writer for one of the papers who keeps the stats for the three papers, got off the track weeks ago, and obviously unaware of it has not rectified the situation because he reports to the office so rarely that nobody's been able to contact him to tell him about it Which may be a case against mergers, but that's another story.

WE THINK THE CROWNING BLOW to sports writing as a profession, though, was delt by a San Francisco sports columnist who wrote about a sports quiz show he was on, in which the only answers he was able to give about sports history were from knowledge he had acquired before the age of 11 or 12. The thoughtfully urbane implication was obvious. Sports and their lore, their history, their statistics, are for kids.

Grown men shouldn't be expected to increase their knowledge in that area because they have more grown-up things to consider.

That would be an excellent rationale if this man weren't a sports columnist. It's true that sports are children's games, but if people are being paid to report on children's games, then, by gosh, they should be as deeply concerned about and knowledgable in their job as a White House correspondent. My God, if a sports fan can't trust a sports writer to be an expert on sports, who can he go to for correct and properly reported and analyzed information?

We believe that particular columnist's cavalier attitude toward his field typifies the attitude held by too many sports "experts" today. We can understand their not taking kid's games seriously, but if they find sports reporting too unsophisticated and of not enough social import to fulfill them, they should get out of the business. The really good ones have almost always gone on to something else when they thought it time to transcend the locker rooms and statistics. The ones who stayed either accepted their assignment in the proper perspective and became the great sports writers, or went on thinking themselves above it all and became cynics, which has rarely done anybody and good.

WE HAVE THE FEELING, however, that not too many of the current crop would qualify for anything more difficult than sportswriting.

So there it is, a condemnation perhaps at the least improprietous. But that's one of the advantages of being a free lancer who can earn a living and fringe benefits by other means and whose livelihood and peace of mind, therefore, don't depend on the smiles and handshakes of the people he writes about.

Don't take this as an indictment of all publications or radio and TV stations, or of all writers and broadcasters. The majority of them do care and are competent. For instance, we can't think of a better TV sportscaster than Frank Dill, or a better recent baseball writer than Harry Jupiter, who, unfortunately, is now in public relations work, and who can get mad at Prescott Sullivan? Art Rosenbaum writes a responsible column, Eddie Muller is an excellent fight writer. Bill King and Hank Greenwald are the best basketball announcing team in the business, and Bud Foster and Don Klein are capable in whatever they do.

As for Russ and Lon they're better individually and collectively than anything in the East Bay, Los Angeles, New York, or any of the national crews we've heard. As we noted several weeks ago, we never really appreciated them until we heard that Oakland duo, who, along with the bunny, the mule, the fireworks man, the bell ringer and Mr. Finley, from the best vaudeville act since the Seven Foys.

Hodges, Simmons and Thompson have style, knowledge, and just as important, the ability to laugh at themselves and, occasionally, the events surrounding them.

WHAT HAS US WORRIED is that with expansion already spreading thin playing, front office, managing, coaching and umpiring talent, sports reporting may become thin to the breaking point. Which means a return of Bob Fouts and Gordy Soltau.

Okey, boys. Now you can start casting at us.

Westlake Bowl

by JIM GREALISH

The biggest news from Westlake in some time is the announcement that the famous Jack and Jill bowling instruction classes will start at Westlake on Friday, September 20. Added to the team for the first time will be Bill Bunetta, Professional Bowlers' Association champion. The three-per-day classes are limited so advance reservations are limited. The $10 fee includes four lssons with an "instant replay" television camera plus the other features, and in addition, a practice card entitling the holder to 40 practice games free.

Al Beyalian returned to form last week in the 540 Trio League as he hit an 824 series on a high game of 232.

The Westlake Bowl squad at the San Carlos Belle and Beau Tournament will shoot August 10, at 5 p.m. Reservations may be made with Jim Leatherberry or Pio Bertsch.

Bill Rodriquez set a torrid pace in the 525 Scratch Trio League last week as he shot games of 212-258-170 and 211 for a big 851 series.

Bob Cowan proved that he didn't lose any ability during his navy tour when he topped the 200 mark in all three games last week in the 860 Summer Scratch League. Bob had games of 201-209-229 for a 639 series.

Vic Day took top honors for the week in the Skyline Trio League by shooting a 221 game and 630 series.

Bill Spilmer and Bob Ward shared the spotlight for the men in the Westport Merchants' League last week as Bill had a 576 series and Bob a 253 game. Helen Vincent again led the ladies, this time with a 181 game and 528 series.

This week is "Daly City Recreation Department Week" at Westlake as over 100 boys and girls are on hand for the start of the Recreation Department sponsored "LLearn to Bowl" program. With classes on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, boys and girls from all parts of the area will participate.

Tony Monteath stole the limelight in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League last week by shooting a big 232 game and 642 series. Helen Rubitski led the ladies with a 193 game and 528 serues.

The ladies of the St. Thomas More Thursday morning summer league celebrated the end of competition with an awards' luncheon at Westlake last week. It was reported that a good time was had by all, especially the trophy winners.

A big 242 game and a 508 series by Joe Ciremele led the Safeway Sleepers League for the week.

The weekend Moonlight Blue Chip Bonanzas are catching on at Westlake. Last Sunday additional lanes were needed to handle the bowlers who rolled for the first time.

Rick Rosenthal shot a 218 game and 545 series last week to lead the Fireman's Fund Summer League.

Jack Neveux topped the Country Club Handicap League for the week with a 211 game and 560 series.

D.C. Man Convicted

James Earle Williams III, 19, of 337 Knowles Street, Daly City, was convicted by a Superior Court jury last week of a charge of making fire bombs.

Judge Wayne R. Millington scheduled sentencing for August 14. The defendant, who had been free without bail, was required to post a $2,500 bond for his continued freedom pending sentencing.

Williams was arrested with five juveniles in Lincoln Park in Daly City in early April. Police said the six youths were crouched behind a wall, pouring gasoline into soft drink bottles and inserting cloth plugs and strips of towling for wicks.

The five juveniles were convicted in juvenile court.

On the witness stand during his three-day trial Williams denied that he had anything to do with the activity. He said he had just happened on the scene and knew nothing about the bottles. Williams was backed by the five juveniles who were called as witnesses by defense attorney Ben La Mar. Deputy District Attorney John O'Leary called other witnesses, however, who said Williams had taken an active part in the activity.

The jury deliberated for three hours and 20 minutes.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO's long-awaited Junipero Serra Boulevard-Caly Avenue pedestrian overpass was recently completed at a cost of $75,000, and is now in use. The overpass, a joint project undertaken by the city, state and South San Francisco Unified School District, was built after three children died in traffic accidents over a period of two years. (Post Photo by Burton)

THEY SAY that 23 is a "skiddo" figure, but Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Bugler of 624 North Mayfair Ave., Daly City, proved otherwise when they claimed the 1968 Camaro Sports Coupe that was given away by Westlake Shopping Center. The Buglers had exactly 23 tickets entered in the free Camaro drawing, which set a new record with 205,000 ticket stubs entered. Here, left to right, the happy Buglers receive their new car keys from Gene L. Perry, advertising director of Westlake Shopping Center, while Bob Eiseman, (extreme left), general manager of the New Gateway Chevrolet, Daly City, looks on approvingly. (Post Photo)

Hands Hurt In Flareup

A San Bruno resident, Earl Goodway, suffered first and second degree burns of both hands and his right arm Sunday when flame from a plumber's pot he was lighting inside his garage flared up because of a defective valve, San Bruno firemen said.

Goodway was lighting the pot, which used white gas for fuel, in the garage of his home at 416 Garden Avenue shortly before 6:21 p.m.

Firemen said a defective top valve blew out and the white gas under pressure escaped rapidly and ignited.

Rags and scrap lumber in the garage were burned, but there was no other fire damage, a spokesman for the fire depart-

Jefferson Starts Trimester Program

The Jefferson Union High School District Adult Division will commence its trimester program on September 10.

In effect, the trimester program consists of three-quarter sessions: Fall, September 10 through December 6; winter, January 6 through March 20, and spring, March 24 through June 11.

In keeping with the changing picture of adult education throughout the state, the quarter system lends itself readily to the needs and desires of the adult student body, according to Adult School Director Thomas Redmond.

It further offers to the adult community an opportunity to enter the educational program of the district at three separate registration periods during the academic year and the educational program itself becomes far more flexible, offering a variety of opportunities to introduce or revise the many adult educational programs of the district, Redmond said.

Within the quarter system the student has a better opportunity in selection of courses during the academic year, as well as establishing a time budget in conformity with his activities other than education.

Whereas, a student attending only one evening per week during the academic year could enjoy only two course experiences, in the quarter system the student will have an opportunity to enjoy three courses — one per quarter, thus expanding his areas of choice and broadening his educational accomplishments, Redmond explained.

For the diploma candidate, a student attending one evening per week will receive 3.3 units of credit per quarter. If he chooses to attend the same kind of course two nights each week, he will receive 6.6 units of credit per quarter.

Many of the community service course offerings presently in the adult program will also become available to the diploma candidate in the quarter system.

The quarter system program should eliminate the educational lag that has been felt by adult by the intervention of the Christmas holiday, Redmond pointed out.

Each quarter will register at a time convenient to the student body and terminate at a time that will allow consideration of student body responsibilities during the holiday periods of each year.

Registration for the fall semester will commence with the first class meeting on September 10, in all high schools in Daly City and Pacifica, between the hours of 7 and 10 p.m.

All persons wishing to enroll should go early, to be certain of a place in the class of their choice.

Upholstery classes at Jefferson Adult Division, 6996 Mission Street, Daly City, are presently under way on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. All levels of instruction, from beginners through advanced students are offered in each section.

Under the direction of Robert Griffith, a long-time upholstery teacher in the Bay Area, individualized instruction is offered to each student. Recognizing the desire and the need of the student, Griffith has designed his courses to provide a maximum learning experience in upholstery for each student, Redmond said.

Writing for Publication is also again being offered by the Adult Divisoin, at the Westmoor Park Clubhouse, 123 Edgemont Drive, Daly City, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., each Monday.

This popular course will be taught by David Schuman of San Francisco State College. Schuman completed his undergraduate work in history, psychology, and creative writing at Stanford University. He is presently in the masters program in creative writing at San Francisco State College.

Many former students of the Writing for Publication course have achieved success in seeing their work in print. Those students interested in refining their writing abilities can register directly in the class on Monday at Westmoor Park Clubhouse between the hours of 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

EVER WONDER WHAT'S IN OTHER WOMEN'S MINDS?

A study was made recently of 7,000 women to see what interested them most when purchasing furniture, carpet and bedding.

In buying floor covering the, three things the average woman considered most were quality, price and ease of care.

Strangely, in purchasing furniture, price came in last in this study. Most women were more concerned with style, workmanship, durability, size, practicality and comfort.

The study showed that the American consumer is basically a conservative person. Not only does she prefer basic black in her clothes, but in the majority of cases she will, select a plain carpet, wall covering or upholstery for her rooms.

Other findings disclosed that buyers were unable to quote a brand name for 43% of purchase made; and that the living room is the first room to be furnished or redecorated.

The researchers found that the main reason for making purchases at a certain store was that women had seen furniture in other people's homes, purchased at that particular dealer, which they liked. This proves that retailers and decorators can count on the goodwill of pleased customers for sending others to their place of business.

Whatever furniture you want, it will pay you to visit us.

A 'Different' License Plate Posted in D.C.

A different sort of California license plate on display at the Daly City office of the Department of Motor Vehicles. The only word on it is "Welcome!" and it's the theme of a new statewide campaign in which every employee in every one of the department's 145 offices has been asked to take part.

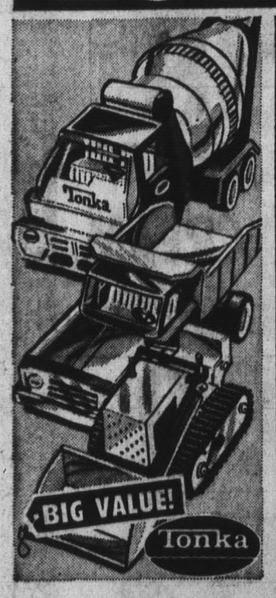

The campaign was developed and launched by Verne Orr, Director of Motor Vehicles, to help build a bridge of sincerity across the counter where DMV employees and the public meet.

"We believe that public understanding of the department's functions and services, matched by our efforts to take a personal interest in each client's problem, will lead to more efficient service and fewer complaints on both sides," said John Krieger, manager of the local office.

Every employee is wearing a lapel pin with the word "Welcome" on it. This is supplemented by large posters bearing the same message at each entrance to the DMV office.

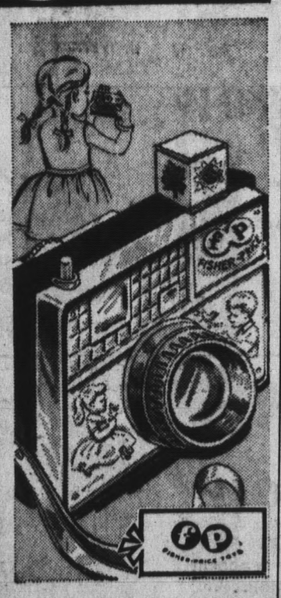

In his memorandum to department employees Director Orr said, "Your cooperation in this program will do much to make the Department of Motor Vehicles an enjoyable place in which to do business."

General Plan Meet

Daly City's proposed General Plan will be discussed during a public hearing August 12 in the council chambers at the Civic Center, Sullivan Avenue and 90th Street.

The new plan, prepared by Livingston and Blayney of San Francisco, was the subject of two recent public hearings held by the planning commission.

HOME OWNERS

In 1967, the United States had 33 million home owners, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Following the review, the commission approved and sent the plan to the council for their action with recommendations.

Persons desiring to speak on this matter will be allowed to appear before the council on August 12, a city hall spokesman said.

Colma School Radio Theft

Daly City police are investigating the theft of nearly $3,500 worth of tape recorders, radios and movie projectors from the library of the Colma Intermediate School.

Police said the theft of 15 $156.50 tape recorders, two $517.50 16 mm projectors and two $55 radios, used by the audio visual department of the Jefferson Elementary School District, appeared to be a "professional job."

Authorities also said two more arrests have been made in the recent Woodrow Wilson School vandalism case.

Both were youngsters — one 13 years of age, the other eight.

Curfew Arrests on Coast

Pacifica arrested 16 teen-agers Sunday night in an apparent crackdown on juvenile curfew violators.

Nine of the youths were arrested at 2 a.m. today near the Linda Mar Shopping Center, scene of two days of rioting by dissident teen-agers last week.

Seven other high school-age youths were arrested on the streets in the Sharp Park District at 10:45 p.m. Sunday.

The city's curfew law requires youths under 18 to be "off the streets" by 10 p.m.

The strict curfew enforcement followed another fire - bombing incident in the city.

A gasoline-filled container was hurled against the Anza Creek Pumping Station in Linda Mar shortly before noon Saturday, fire department spokesmen reported.

The cement block building was not damaged.

At least three Molotiv cocktails were hurled against buildings during the shopping center disturbance last Monday night.

D.C. Frisbee Action At Playgrounds

Frisbees are the main topic of conversation at each of the Daly City-Colma playgrounds this week.

As one of more than 300 cities, the Daly City Recreation Department is sponsoring Frisbee contests on all of the playgrounds.

Each local champion will pit his skills against 24 other finalists as he enters the City-Wide Toss Off to be held August 12th at the War Memorial Community Center. Competition is scheduled to start promptly at 1:30 p.m.

The top three winners of the "Toss Off" will be awarded trophies and Olympic Frisbees. The Daly City Junior National Frisbee dinner will be eligible to compete in the Regional contest to be announced at a later date. The Regional Champ will receive a $100 savings bond and a paid round-trip ticket to the National Contest in Southern California.

Contest ends at 5 p.m. on August 8.

Coast Drive Will Benefit Negro College

Members of the Pacifica Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 1500 Perez Drive, will unite with some 3,300 other Adventist churches throughout North America Saturday, August 10, to help raise funds to build new facilities at a Negro college near Huntsville, Alabama.

The local congregation, said Pastor James Wood, will give to the special college building fund during 11 a.m. worship services of the church on Saturday.

Oakwood College, noted Pastor Wood, is one of 13 colleges and universities operated by Seventh-Day Adventists in the United States and Canada. All are fully integrated, but Oakwood College has a predominantly Negro student enrollment.

In commenting on the special offering being taken by the local congregation on Saturday, Pastor Wood said, "We recognize that the future of our nation will, to a considerable degree, be determined by the extent to which educators are able to tighten the slack in the Negro student's educational deficiency."

Scout Gets Credit For Saving a Life

A Times' newspaper carrier and Life Scout has been credited with saving the life of a smaller boy who had choked on a combination of bubble gum and popcorn Wednesday afternoon in San Bruno.

James A. Harrington, 14, son of Robert F. Harrington, 731 Santa Lucia Avenue, San Bruno, is the hero.

Mrs. Robert L. Sandin, 527 Poplar Avenue, says "Jimmy" breathed life into her son, Robert, age 8.

"We had been returning from the Capuchino area," she said, "I was driving the car, my mother was with me. We came to the stop sign at Cypress and Santa Lucia, and stopped. I looked around, and my son was just lying there, stiff.

"We got him out of the car, and put him on a lawn, and I started giving him mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

"Maybe I wan't doing it right, but Jimmy came up and said he had studied this in the Boy Scouts, and, well, he just began helping me.

"The police department came, and the fire department, but it was Jimmy who did it. We had my son coming around before the fire department got there. And then they whisked him into an ambulance, and we took him to Peninsula hospital, and he was released after a short time."

Jimmy is a Boy Scout who has won the Life rank and is on his way to Eagle. He is a member of Troop 89, San Bruno, and has been a Scout for about 3½ years, his mother reports. He has also been a Times' carrier since May 1, 1967.

Mrs. Harrington said her son had been walking over to a friend's house when he heard Mrs. Sandin screaming, and went to her aid.

She said she was sure the Scouts was where her son had learned mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, and said his Scoutmaster had insisted on it.

Indonesian Night Set

Anyone who missed last year's successful Indonesian Night held at Terra Nova High School will have another chance to see some of the exotic classical Indonesian dances at the Victory Dinner Dance at Long Table Restaurant, Pacifica, on Saturday, August 10, to celebrate the twenty third anniversary of Indonesian Independence, and the conclusion of the Fifth Annual Indonesian Soccer Tournament.

Coming up from Hollywood to direct the performance will be Miss Devi Dja, a famous Javanese and Balinese dancer, and Benedictus Suharto who currently is teaching at Mills College sponsored by the American Society of Eastern Arts. Suharto came to the United States in 1964 as a performing artist at the Indonesian pavilion during the New York World's Fair. He returned in the fall of 1967 to join the faculty of the music department at Wesleyan University as teacher and performer of Indonesian dance.

This event is sponsored by the Indonesian Community Center and endorsed by the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce.

Highlights of the evening will also include the presentation of trophies to the winners of the soccer tournament, social dances with two bands provided by the Indonesian Community Center for your enjoyment.

Tickets are available from:

Pacifica, Lola Ackerman; San Francisco, Willy Amrull and Fred Pfaff; Daly City, Alice Lavino; San Jose, Joanna Roza, and Wim Brand.

Tickets also are available at the door. The program will begin at 8 p.m.

AT CONVENTION

A San Bruno podiatrist, Dr. Charles W. Bradley, attended the 56th annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association in Chicago last week. He is presently chairman of the board of trustees of the California College of Podiatric Medicine.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Imaginative Sandwiches Made With Ripe Olives

The most imaginative sandwiches are made with California ripe olives, not excluding new shapes and flavors. For the newest of the new, the Coffee House Sandwich Cake is filled with a scrumptious combo of ripe olives, hot dogs, celery, mayonnaise and mustard. For added zest, bake up two special loaves of bread by the popular coolrise method, and you have the makings of a coffee house party.

For another sandwich that lends itself to a decorative party setting, a ripe olive torta is just the thing. The prepared ripe olive and ground beef mixture is easily mounded into hollowed French rolls. Top each torta with the crust "hat" originally cut from the rolls. Bake. Ripe olives are the glossy little dazzlers that complete the garnish for this sandwich.

Use a little imagination the next time you crave a tuna sandwich. Combine tuna with California ripe olives, cheese, mayonnaise and Worchestershire sauce and spread on hamburger buns. Wrap the little tasties up, and heat them over coals or in a hot oven. You'll be glad you used a little imagination.

RIPE OLIVE COFFEE HOUSE SANDWICH CAKE

Undoubtedly, a most outstanding way to make a sandwich!

1 (No. 1) tall can pitted California ripe olives
6 hot dogs
½ cup finely chopped celery
2-3 cup mayonnaise
4 teaspoons horseradish mustard
2 Special Sandwich Loaves
Butter

Chop ripe olives and hot dogs. Combine with celery, mayonnaise and mustard. Split each sandwich loaf into two layers. Spread cut surface with butter. Put loaves back together with one third of filling between each layer. Turn one filled loaf upside down on plate. Spread bottom with butter then remaining hot dog filling. Top with second filled loaf cheese side up. Insert 8 bamboo skewers through layers to hold sandwich cake in position. Top each skewer with ripe olive. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 8 servings.

SPECIAL SANDWICH LOAVES: Sift 3 cups flour. Dissolve 1 package active dry yeast in 1-3 cup warm water in warm bowl. Add ¾ cup warm milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, ⅛ teaspoon dill weed and 1 tablespoon instant minced onion. Stir in 1 cup flour. Beat with rotary beater until smooth, about 1 minute. Add ½ cup flour; beat vigorously with wooden spoon until smoth (150 strokes). Gradually blend in 1¾ to 1½ cups flour to make stiff dough. Turn out onto floured board. Knead about 5 minutes, until dough is smooth. Cover with saran, then a towel. Let rest 20 minutes. Punch down. Divide dough in half. Knead each portion to break air bubbles then place in greased 8-inch round layer cake pan. Press dough out to edges of pan, building it up slightly at edges. Brush top with melted butter. Cover pans with saran and refrigerate 2 to 4 hours. When ready to bake remove from refrigerator and sprinkle each loaf with 1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese. Let stand 20 minutes. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 25 minutes, until browned. Turn out onto wire racks to cool.

CALIFORNIA RIPE OLIVE TORTA

Be sure to serve this sandwich hot and hearty.

1 pound ground lean beef
1 (1'-ounce) envelope spaghetti sauce mix
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
1 (No. 1) tall can pitted California ripe olives
¼ cup shredded Parmesan cheese
8 round French rolls
Melted butter

Brown beef lightly. Add spaghetti seasoning mix and tomato sauce; cook 5 to 10 minutes over low heat, stirring occasionally. Mix in drained ripe olives cut into wedges and cheese; remove from heat. Cut thin slice off top of each roll. Hollow out centers leaving a ½-inch shell. Brush insides of rolls with butter. Fill with ripe olive mixture; replace tops. Brush outsides of rolls with butter and place on baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes, until throughly heated. Garnish as desired with whole ripe olives, pickles and peppers. Makes 8 servings.

RIPE OLIVE TUNA BUNS

This savory sandwich filling makes an easy appetizer spread too.

1 cup canned California ripe olives
1 (6½ or 7-ounce) can tuna
1 cup grated American cheese
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
6 hamburger buns

Combine ripe olives cut into chunks with drained tuna, cheese, mayonnaise and Worcestershire sauce. Split buns and fill with ripe olive mixture. Wrap in foil. Heat in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

OLIVE COFFEE HOUSE SANDWICK CAKE

CALIFORNIA RIPE OLIVE TORTA

Dress Up Cold Lamb

There lies yesterday's cold lamb looking tired and woebegone. Dress it up like this and you will have a sandwich that will take it way out of that woebegone state. For each cup of finely chopped cooked lamb add about ¼ cup chutney, chopped finely, add 3 tablespoons dairy sour cream. Try this on well-buttered cracked wheat or whole wheat toast for a real treat.p

Use Canadian Bacon For Hearty Duet

Looking for quick suppers that will satisfy hearty appetites? Scooped-out tomatoes, stuffed with canned baked beans, topped with regular bacon and served on the Canadian-style variety is one answer to this problem.

Canadian-style bacon makes an easy-to-fix dish out of any meal because it's cured and smoked and requires little cooking. Most people like it heated to bring out its full flavor, says a meat authority.

Canadian-Style Bacon with Stuffed Tomatoes

6 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut ½ inch thick
6 medium-sized tomatoes
1 can (16 ounces) baked beans
6 slices bacon, cut in half

Wash tomatoes. Cut slice from top. Remove pulp. Fill with baked beans. Place each tomato on a slice of Canadian-style bacon in a greased casserole. Cross two half slices of bacon on each tomato. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 to 30 minutes, or until tomatoes are tender and bacon is lightly browned. 6 servings .

Use Strategy To Salt Roast

Salt the roast before, after or during the cooking process. It makes no difference when it's added because it doesn't penetrate the roast much more than one-fourth of an inch.

However, when broiling meats like steaks or chops, season after each side is browned. Salt tends to draw moisture out of the meat during this cooking process and may retard the browning that's so desirable.

EVEN THE NOVICE homemaker can delight her husband with a menu featuring plump, roasted Rock Cornish hens, and a velvety, chicken-mushroom gravy, thanks to canned condensed cream or chicken soup, and packaged herb-seasoned stuffing cubes.

Try Stuffed Cornish Game Hens As a First Culinary Accomplishment

It's your first anniversary . . . the first month, that is . . . and you want to mark the occasion witr a special dinner to demonstrate your culinary skill. Something very elegant, like stuffed Rock Cornish hens, with a creamy rich mushroom-chicken sauce. Sound too difficult? Don't have time?

Once, perhaps, these were good reasons for not attempting such a time-consuming classic. Now, thanks to the use of convenience foods as cooking ingredients, many dishes requiring special know-how and hours of preparation time have become easy-dos.

Prepare stuffing for the hens by combining cubed seasoned stuffing mix with Mandarin orance slices, walnuts, and celery. While the birds roast, create a delicious, velvety gravy with canned condensed cream of chicken soup as a starter. This good soup, expertly seasoned and double rich, insures a perfect, smooth gravy with no long stirring, fuss, or worry over lumpy results. Sliced mushrooms, light cream, small amounts of crushed rosemary and Chablis give the gravy a truly elegant flavor.

At serving time, arrange bundles of green beans and broiled tomato halves around the hens on a platter.

CORNISH GAME HENS WITH ORANGE-HERB STUFFING

- 2 cups cubed seasoned stuffing, prepared
- ⅓ cup finely chopped celery
- ⅓ cup Mandarin oranges
- ⅓ cup chopped walnuts
- 2 Rock Cornish hens (about 1½ pounds each)
- Melted butter or margarine
- 1½ cups sliced fresh mushrooms (about ¼ pound)
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ⅛ teaspoon rosemary, crushed
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
- ½ cup light cream
- 2 tablespoons Chablis or other dry white wine

Combine stuffing, celery, oranges, and walnuts. Stuff hens; fasten with toothpicks or skewers. Place in a shallow roasting pan; breast side up. Roast at 400 degrees F. for 1 hour 15 minutes or until done. Baste with melted butter. Meanwhile, in saucepan, brown mushrooms in butter with rosemary. Add soup, cream, and wine. Heat; stir now and then. Serve with hens and stuffing. Makes two servings.

Roundup Of Recipes For the Grill

Before the exodus to cooking outside gets in full swing, try a few new ideas for beef 'burgers.

This is really a creative cooking and testing project in which the whole family can participate. When younger members of the family can come up with taste combinations everyone likes, they'll feel great!

Ground beef which all of the following recipes require is best when the lean makes up about 75% of the meat with 25% fat, suet as the fat of beef, is called, claims a meat expert.

With these percentages, the beef patties do not shrink too much nor is there too much dripping into the charcoal to cause smoke signals to upset neighbors.

The following recipes use novel ideas in the patty mixture. But don't let the family stop there! There are many ideas they might like to try as toppers. What about cooked, crumbled bacon mired with chopped chieves and dairy sour cream? Or corn relish on one 'burger and green tomato pickes on another?

Grilled Dillburgers
- 1½ pounds ground beef
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 3 tablespoons chopped onion
- 3 dill pickles
- 6 bacon slices

Combine ground beef, salt, pepper and onion. Cut dill pickles lengthwise in half. Shape seasoned beef around each dill pickle half. Wrap each with a slice of bacon and fasten with wooden picks. Grill on one side until brown, then turn, cook on the second side. Total cooking time will be from 10 to 12 minutes. 6 servings.

Beef-Potato 'Burgers
- 1½ pounds ground beef
- 2 medium-sized potatoes, unpared and grated
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Shape into 6 to 8 patties. Place on broiler rack, so that the top surface of patties is about 3 inches from heat. Broil on one side until browned about 10 minutes. Turn and broil second side about 8 minutes. 6 to 8 servings.

Bacon 'Burgers
- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 cup bran flakes
- 10 slices bacon

Combine egg, salt, pepper, onion, parsley and bran flakes. Mix until moisture is absorbed. Add ground beef. Mix thoroughly. Using a generous tablespoon of meat mixture, shape into 10 patties. Cut each slice of bacon lengthwise into 2 strips. Arrange 2 strips bacon crosswise on waxed paper and place a patty on each bacon intersection. Bring the strips of bacon together on top of each patty, fastening with wooden pick. Place patties on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so that top surface of patty is about 2 inches from heat. Broil 8 to 10 minutes on each side. 5 servings.

Veal Almondine

Saute slivered almonds (you can buy them already slivered) and sliced fresh mushrooms in olive oil; stir in tomato sauce with Worcestershire and lemon juice to taste. Spoonover pan-fried veal cutlets.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Moonraker "Moored" For Restaurant Action

NICK GUST'S new MOONRAKER is now "moored," ready and able to take care of all your restaurant and cocktail dine and wine-out pleasures. After last week's gala three-day opening celebration, it's smooth sailing ahead, with dining room business and banquets going full speed. The surroundings in both the dining room and cocktail lounge are so pleasant that guests linger late in the evening to enjoy the floodlighted view of the nearby rolling surf. The Moonraker's nautical decor includes authentic ship's rigging, lanterns, wheels, ventilators and a sextant. Fish net balls strung with cork hang from the ceiling to partition the cocktail lounge and dining room. Pilings, which section the tiered dining room, accent the unique decor, which includes comfortable leather booths and roomy leather chairs on casters — all backdropped by picture windows affording a panoramic vista of the Pacific Ocean. Standing in for Maitre d' FRED WYL, who was enjoying a well-deserved Sunday night off, HANS STOLZ, a member of the Blue Fox staff, supervised the service, which is guaranteed to pamper you. Talented DON KELLY presides at the organ to play your musical requests. Ocean front parking.

Ford and Hines Are Venetian Room Rave

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Sinaloa Gloria's Three-Dimension Performance

HAVE REVIEWED SHOWS in and about the Bay Area, on the East Coast and in the deep South for numerous years, but Tuesday evening your BRIGHT LIGHTER witnessed one of the most outstanding acts of its kind to perform before these experienced eyes. Namely, GLORIA NORMANDA and MARIO TORRES, who opened at LUZ GARCIA'S Powell Street SINALOA last week. This peppery gal presents the fastest footwork ever to grace the Sinaloa stage — and that includes all the "bombs" from A to Z for the past 15 years. With muscle control beyond belief, Gloria fans ringsiders with her costume "tail feathers" as she moves her agile body in three directions at the same time. If she doesn't sleep well, it certainly isn't because she lacks exercise. Mario backs her performance to bongo-beat perfection. Also on the Sinaloa "smasher" are THE LOS ROQUETS, a husband-wife team which is musically tops — he on trumpet, she on the drums. OLGA ROMERO delights the audiences with one of her standard "drunk" acts; handsome RAUL LARA tends to the vocals and emcee duties. Mexican and American food; three floor shows nightly. Open Monday through Saturday.

More and more Peninsula businessmen are taking the "last minute rush" out of catching a plane at San Francisco International Airport by arriving early at the HILTON INN for a relaxing luncheon or dinner in the FRENCH CORNER restaurant. A popular place for those scheduled on late evening flights is BILL GILBERT'S TIGER, featuring music by THE JOINT VENTURE . . . S.F. Airport Will Have Own Division

San Francisco International Airport will have its own Engineering Division for the first time in its 41-year history.

The Public Utilities Commission has approved a call for bids to renovate the old Pan American Base Administration Building as quarters for the engineering staff of about 30 persons headed by Robert G. Lee. The personnel will be ,transferred from the Utilities Engineering Bureau which has handled Airport engineering in the past.

"Such a move has been under consideration for the last two to three years," Airport General Manager George F. Hansen said. "And the Airport's current $110 million expansion program, together with planned capital investments of about $200 million by major airlines requires that this change be made now."

The Commission has adopted the McKinsey Management Survey Report which recommended an Airport Engineering Division, terming it a "necessity" which should be set up immediately "to assure efficient implementation of projects involved in the $110 million Airport expansion program."

"This reorganization will give Airport management a closer and more direct control over its own development program, and will allow for better coordination with airlines and other tenants in their expansion plans," Hansen said.

The Engineering Division also will absorb the engineering inspection unit of about 25 persons at the airport which also has operated under the Utilities Engineering Bureau. Target date for completion of the changeover is mid-October.

Boxes Burn In Apartment

A South San Francisco apartment was damaged early on Tuesday when a stack of cardboard boxes caught fire from a wall heater, authorities reported.

Fire department spokesmen said the blaze started in apartment three at 414 Commercial Avenue about 12:45 a.m. after the occupant, Larry S. McGuire, left a stack of boxes on the floor.

McGuire was in the process of moving out of the apartment, firemen said, and had his personal belongings packed in the boxes.

Damage to the building was estimated at less than $1,000, and damage to the contents at $200.
